The Great Debates & Updates in Hematologic Malignancies conference is best known for its unique debate-style format. Thought leaders from the nation’s leading cancer institutes meet onstage to dive into the most controversial topics shaking up the field of hematologic malignancies.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Great Debates New York City and Chicago will be held as virtual gatherings. Sessions will be broadcast in real time with ample time for live Q&A. Sessions will be available on demand to meeting attendees post-show who did not get a chance to view the live session.

This one-of-a-kind hematology conference provides a substantial curriculum covering the broad continuum of:

- Multiple Myeloma
- Acute Leukemia
- Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia
- Chronic Myeloid Leukemia
- "Not-So-Benign" Hematology
- Myeloproliferative Neoplasms
- Lymphoproliferative Diseases
